Court House Dedication.

Workmen will be busy all day today putting the finishing touches to the interior of the new court house, getting it ready for the dedication Monday. Many of the offices are in a chaotic state, but by tomorrow will be in a presentable condition. The exterior is now decorated with flags and streamers for the dedicatory services on Monday. Hundreds of palms and hydrangeas are systematically arranged throughout the interior for the occasion.

Enterprise.

"Always to the front" has ever been the motto of B. S. Harris, the South Division street grocer. His store is one of the finest in the city. He is now putting in a cash carrier system, which will also make it one of the most convenient. This is the only grocery store on South Division street using this modern convenience. Enterprise like this is what makes South Division street.

THE BEST GOLD CURE

Dr. Albee of Detroit the Discoverer.

The Great Work of Reform Which the Cure is Effecting.

In conversation recently with a graduate of the International Gold Cure company's institute of this city, the writer elicited much valuable and interesting information relative to the workings of the new discovery. The gold cure for insanity seems to have undergone the same evolution toward better and more practical methods since its first introduction, that has characterized the progress of electrical science since Franklin flew his kite. So far as the scientific treatment of insanity advanced that today, thanks to Dr. Albee, founder of the International Gold Cure company, no expensive surgery at a remote institute is necessary, nor even is it necessary to desert from one's ordinary pursuits while taking treatment. No matter what the occupation may be the only necessary step to secure a perfect cure and immunity from the damning appetite for drink is to place oneself in the hands of the International Gold Cure company's physicians and full and final restoration to manhood is assured.

The idea that this marvelous result is obtainable without the necessity of treatment at an institute and without cessation of occupation is a new one to many and will be received with great rejoicing by those whose financial condition precludes their release from labor or their transportation to some institution.

The Albee cure was first established in Detroit, the home of the eminent physician whose name it bears. In that city more than 400 unfortunate subjects of alcoholism have been restored to health and are today prosperous and happy witnesses to the beneficent agency. From Detroit the home institute began the work of establishing branch institutions throughout the country, and today there are innumerable branch institutions where the Albee cure is administered throughout the country. They extend in an unbroken line from the Atlantic to the Pacific. At these institutions thousands of unfortunates are being treated, and thousands being restored to perfect manhood. Of the whole number who have taken this remarkable treatment, numbering somewhere about 40,000, fully 95 per cent have been permanently cured. Of the 5 per cent who have failed to realize a cure nearly every one has been too far lost to possess the requisite vitality or moral courage to rally and have succumbed to death as they would have done had no treatment been administered.

The Grand Rapids branch of the Albee institute is in charge of the well known physician, Dr. Frank E. Picher, of No. 250 Sheldon street. This branch has now been in successful operation for about two months. During that time some 625 patients have received treatment and have been successfully restored to health. This great work has brought joy and prosperity to countless homes, and friends and restored many capable men to their full manhood. The treatment is now being administered to scores of mechanics, clerks and artisans throughout the city, and new ones are being constantly added to the list.

Dr. Picher has treated hundreds of patients by visiting them while engaged with their labor, thus taking none of their time and relieving them from the necessity of visiting the institute office. The manner of treatment is simple and unobjectionable in every way and causes the slightest inconvenience to the patient. While standing at his desk, bending over his bench, or engaged in any class of manual labor, he may receive treatment with but a moment's interruption. In this way the treatment entails no loss of time whatever, and thus is reduced to the minimum of cost. Another advantage of the Albee cure lies in the fact that absolutely no restriction of diet or movement are demanded of the patient. He may indulge his entire freedom of action and appetite, not even being denied drink of any kind. The treatment quickly abates the appetite for the latter, and indulgence at once becomes impossible. The patient by means of rest, reduced nervousness and suffers no nervous shock. When the cure is complete, which takes possibly twenty-one days, he leaves the institute physically renovated and invigorated, morally free from the contamination of dissipation and liberated from the alcoholic appetite.

Coming to the Front.

A representative of this paper was very much surprised yesterday on going by No. 85 Canal street, the pleasant location of the Buffalo Clothing company. Every thing in front looked so neat and attractive that we stopped to investigate. They had just finished trimming their large show windows, and must say a more neat and attractive display of spring and summer suits cannot be found in the city. On going inside we were astonished to find so well arranged salesrooms. Everything in apple pie order, so neat and tasty and with an air of enterprise and business pervading the whole store that is truly refreshing. On approaching the proprietor of this growing house we were shown through the finest selected stock of men's and boys' clothing, gentlemen's furnishings, goods, hats, caps, trunks and traveling bags, that we ever saw. This stock is fresh, neat and clean, and are the latest styles. Mr. Blumenfeld had just returned from the east, and there he bought very largely for spot cash and at a great discount a large invoice of the very latest novelties in frock and sack suits never before shown in this market, which are perfect dreams of beauty.

We were informed that they proposed to make a great sale of these goods from now until after the Fourth of July as they did not propose to carry over any goods. Their prices are ridiculously low on every thing and any one who contemplates buying a suit of clothes, it will pay them to look over the house before buying, and those who want custom made garments will find as nice a merchant tailoring department as can be found anywhere in the city, with a splendid assortment of piece goods to select from and with prices within the reach of all. Don't forget the number, 85 Canal street.

The North Park's Fourth.

Last evening the monster balloon floated by. Fred. Booney made the finest ascension ever made at North Park. July 4th the professor will give a parachute shower from the big balloon in the afternoon. You can have one if you will catch it. With an exhibition of day fireworks. In the evening fire works will be shot from the balloon while at an altitude of 3,000 feet, and the latest Japanese musical fireworks will be exhibited from a float in the river.
